10:30 am to 11:45 am                      Briefing on APLU Transformation Cluster Initiative – By Invitation Only

Room: Monarch

The APLU Transformation Cluster Initiative is a new, APLU-wide effort to advance student success and degree completion. More than 100 universities across the country will form “transformation clusters” to adapt and scale solutions that will enhance student success. Participating universities will pursue three broad goals: dramatically increase the number of degrees conferred by 2025, eliminate the achievement gap, and expand access to higher education.

At this session at the USU, CADE & CSA Joint Summer Meeting, attendees from universities participating in the cluster initiative will meet for a briefing and discussion. Attendees will receive further details on the initiative and its progress, discuss the themes and focus areas identified for collaborative work, and agree upon next steps. Feedback from participants will be used to refine the focus areas as well as goals and desired outcomes for each cluster.

Facilitator:

- Julia Michaels, Director, APLU Center for Public University Transformation

Room: Fort Dearborn B

In this session, institutional leaders will learn about the new National Assessment of Collegiate Campus Climates (the NACCC), a 15-minute online survey created by the University of Southern California Race and Equity Center to assess campus racial climate. The NACCC assesses aspects of undergraduate students’ sense of affirmation, cross-racial engagement, encounters with racial stress, understanding of racial identity, and their appraisals of institutional commitment to achieving racial equity. This new ongoing research project will begin in the spring of 2019, the NACCC will be administered at colleges and universities across the country to thousands of undergraduate students. This session will be a great opportunity to learn about this ground-breaking assessment tool first hand and discuss its potential impact and implementation for your own institution.
